Dear customer,

We are a new practice, and we want our potential patients to know that their pets are not just patients to us—they are family! We make it our mission to practice veterinary medicine to the highest standard, treating pets as part of our family. We take the time needed to build a vital trust relationship with our furry patients and with their people, too.

As much as pet health is a serious matter, we also don't want to take ourselves too seriously or present ourselves to our patients as stuffy, unapproachable, or sterile. We are a fun family group that likes to have fun. We love our work, and we love pets.

Best regards,

PetVet
